Best Practice II

2019 – 2020

1. Title of the Practice – Faculty Development Program

2. Objectives

- ❖ To improve faculty's ability in carrying out research.
- ❖ To provide opportunities to widen the knowledge and to pursue research.
- ❖ To provide a forum to exchange views, ideas and the latest innovations in the field of education.
- ❖ To offer learning on basics, emerging trends and challenges in the various subjects.
- ❖ To provide hands-on training to demonstrate fundamental concepts of the subject.

3. The Context

Seth Kesarimal Porwal College Kamptee is one of the renowned colleges of Nagpur rural area. Right from the establishment of the college, it is on the path of progress and the teachers of the college have lion's share in its development. There are 53 teaching faculty members in the college, out of which 43 possess a doctoral degree. The College, Principal and the Management consistently focus on the development of the faculty. The college has two recognized research centers for subjects Chemistry and Microbiology. Many aspiring scholars of the region are able to attain their Ph. D. from this college. The college motivates the teachers for participation in Orientation and Refresher Courses and faculty development programs. Many staff members have attended these courses at different Academic Staff Colleges of India. Many faculty members have published their research papers in Peer Reviewed, Indexed, UGC Care Listed and Scopus journals. Few of them have an impact factor (Thomson Reuters) too. To see the research acumen of the teachers, and in order to provide more opportunities to the faculty members to widen the knowledge and to have deliberations on various issues and trends, the college has organized faculty development programs in the session 2019 – 2020.

4. The Practice

Seth Kesarimal Porwal College, Kamptee took an initiative to organize various Faculty Development Programmes in the session 2019-20 to improve the ability of the faculty members in carrying out research. To make this initiative fruitful, the college has organized various conferences, seminars and workshops in different subjects. Department of Physical Education organized the first event “One Month Certificate Course in Yoga & Meditation” from 15th July 2019 to 14th August 2019. This program aimed to curtail the day to day life stress and to keep the faculty and students physically and mentally fit. 21 staff members and 14 students have enthusiastically participated in this course. Department of Commerce organized a National level conference entitled “Electronic Commerce: Issues & Challenges (ECIC 2019)” on 18th September 2019. For this conference, total 350 research scholars have registered and 75 quality research papers were received to be published in the conference proceeding. This conference claims to inspire the academicians, researchers, corporate and government administrators to exchange their view points on electronic commerce, its issues and challenges. The IQAC and Research Promotion Cell of college jointly organized one day Regional Workshop on “Research Work & Its Significance” on 27th September 2019. Total 220 participants participated in this workshop. This workshop helped the academicians and the budding researchers to excel in the field of research. Seth Kesarimal Porwal College, Kamptee in association with the Indian Association of Solid State Chemists & Allied Scientists, Jammu organized the “11th National Conference on Solid State Chemistry & Allied Areas (NCSCA - 2019)” on 20th and 21st December 2019. The conference attempted to decipher and establish a symbolic relationship among industrial, academic, biologist and material scientists and provided the platform to the young researchers to interact with experts for future collaboration. Total 690 delegates were registered for the conference. There were 18 technical sessions arranged for oral and poster presentations. Two day International Conference on “Future Tech of Life Sciences” was organized by the Microbiology department of the college on 14th and 15th

February 2020. The aim of the conference was to inspire the students, researchers and the academicians for the intense research in the life sciences. The conference received an overwhelming response with the registration of 550 participants for the same. In the mid of the session the evil arrival of Covid-19 pandemic made us to curtail some programmes but college acknowledged the online mode of expedition, through which National and International webinars were organized to quench the thirst of accumulating research knowledge. Department of Chemistry and Microbiology jointly organized the International webinar on “Researching and Writing a Masters’ Dissertation” on 25th May 2020. For this, 2410 participants have registered. Two day National Webinar was also organized on “ICT Tools for College Teachers” on 28th and 29th May 2020 by IQAC. The total registration for this webinar was 350.

5. Evidence of Success

- ❖ Report of the events
- ❖ Photos of the events

6. Problems Encountered and Resources Required

Organizing Faculty Development Programmes for Science faculty is comparatively easier than Arts and Commerce faculties. The teachers from Arts and Commerce Faculty are not much comfortable with the new technology, hence are reluctant towards organization of FDPs. Some of them are actually novice in the field of computer. Keeping these things in mind, the college has formed an ‘ICT Cell.’ The objective of the cell is to organize programmes to teach the basics of computers to the needy faculty members and to make the teachers aware of new trends in the field of ICT. Budget is always a problem to organize any event. In the recent years, FDPs, conferences and webinars have been organized by the various colleges in large numbers. Hence, it is a herculean task for the organizers to raise funds through registration.
